- 3.3.10. The study loan covers the LLU tuition fee. The bank offers a loan that covers the tuition fee for the whole period of studies. If, due to the inflation, the tuition fee increases, the difference is covered by a student.
- 3.3.11. The study loan is paid only once for the respective academic semester.
- 3.3.12. The student loan is paid 10 months per year.
- 3.3.13. Payment of the study loan and student loan is suspended during an academic leave. If the studies are resumed, the payments of both loans continue.
- 3.3.14. Upon exmatriculation of a student, payments are closed. The procedure of loan repayment and redemption is determined by regulations of the Cabinet of Ministers and it is supervised by the administration of Ministry of Education and Science and a bank.

4. Results of studies

4.1. Evaluation

4.1.1. The results of studies are evaluated according to the following indicators: qualitative and quantitative:

- (1) A qualitative indicator refers to the criteria of 10-point scale (see the table) or the evaluation “pass / fail”.
- (2) A quantitative indicator refers to the volume of a study course in credit points (CP).

Table

Evaluation in 10-point scale

Assessment	In words	Abbr. in Latvian	Explanation	Approximate ECTS grade
10	outstanding	izc.	knowledge, skills and competence exceeds the requirements of a study programme, study module or study course, demonstrates the ability to carry out independent research and deep understanding of the problems	A
9	Excellent	teic.	knowledge, skills and competence fully corresponds to the requirements of a study programme, study module or study course, there are skills to independently use the acquired knowledge	A
8	Very good	ļ.labi.	fully completed requirements of a study programme, study module or study course, however, the understanding is not sufficiently deep in certain issues to independently use knowledge to solve more complicated problems	B
7	Good	labi	generally complied with the requirements of a study programme, study module or study course, however, sometimes there is a lack of skills to independently use the acquired knowledge	C
6	Almost good	g.labi	the requirements of a study programme, study module or study course are fulfilled, however, there is a lack of sufficiently deep understanding of the problem and sufficient skills to use the acquired knowledge	D
5	Average	viduv.	a study programme, study module or study course is generally acquired, however, there is insufficient knowledge of some problems and there is a lack of sufficient skills to use the acquired knowledge	E
4	Almost average	g.viduv.	a study programme, study module or study course is generally acquired, however, there is an insufficient understanding of some basic concepts, there are considerable difficulties in practical application of the acquired knowledge	E/FX
3	Weak	vāji	Superficial and incomplete knowledge, a student is unable to use it in certain situations	Fail
2	Very	ļ.vāji	there is superficial knowledge about individual problems, the biggest part	Fail

	weak		of a study programme, study module or study course is not acquired
1	Very very weak	1., vāji	no understanding of fundamentals of the subject, almost no knowledge in a study programme, study module or study course	Fail

** – 4 (almost average) is the LOWEST SUCCESSFUL grade.

- 4.1.2. Evaluation of the knowledge and skills acquired during contact classes and individual studies has to be implemented regularly. A member of the academic staff regularly evaluates students' knowledge and skills using the types of assessment indicated in the extended programme (tests, homework, calculations, graphic work, reports, colloquiums, laboratory work etc.).
- 4.1.3. Regular testing and other types of assessment according to the extended programme's description take place in contact classes. The study courses implemented by means of LLU e-learning platform envisage online testing.
- 4.1.4. Members of the academic staff have the right to use various evaluation criteria (e.g., points) when evaluating student performance in their study course, which then are transferred into 10-point system or pass/fail evaluation at the end of a semester.
- 4.1.5. The final assessment in a study course is permitted to be accumulative (the assessment of student performance is accumulated or summarized) meaning that a regular work during a semester influences the final grade of a study course.
- 4.1.6. The completed amount of the credit points is added to the obtained amount of credit points only if a successful grade is received for a study course, traineeship, course work etc.
- 4.1.7. The grade is recorded by members of the academic staff according to the Rector's decision "On Issuing and Completing of Students' Examination Lists".
- 4.1.8. A student's performance in completion of a study plan and study results are analysed at the end of a semester.
- 4.1.9. A study course is successfully completed if all the requirements of its extended programme are completed and the learning outcomes achieved.

Average weighted grade

- 4.1.10. An average grade is calculated as an average weighted grade for each semester, taking into account study courses (except free elective courses), course works and projects, as well as study projects and traineeship if they are assessed with a grade. The average weighted grade is calculated according to the formula:

$$C_{vid} = \frac{\sum_{i=1}^n c_i \times KP_i}{\sum_{i=1}^n KP_i}, \quad (1)$$ where  $c_i$  – a grade in a study course denoted with "i";

 $KP_i$  – "i" study course volume in credit points;
 $n$  – the number of obtained assessments in the respective period.

For example, if a student have passed exams with grades 10 (a course volume 4 CP), 8 (3 CP) and 6 (2 CP), and a formal test with a grade 8 (2 CP), the average weighted grade is:

$$C_{vid} = \frac{10 \times 4 + 8 \times 3 + 6 \times 2 + 8 \times 2}{4 + 3 + 2 + 2} = 8,36. \quad (2)$$

- 4.1.11. The average weighted grade is taken into account when participating in the competition for state-financed places and it is recorded in the Diploma Supplement. The average weighted grade which is recorded in the Diploma Supplement includes also acquired free elective study courses.
- 4.1.12. The study plan indicates the number of CP for each semester. The completed results of the study work are subject to quantitative assessment each semester and each academic year to check the compliance of the completed work with the study plan.

4.2. Assessment

General provisions

- 4.2.1. Assessment is organized to assess the results of students' learning outcomes which are achieved as a result of completing individual tasks, parts of a study course or the entire course and to determine the qualitative assessment of the study results in a study period (a semester, study module, session, an academic year or the study period as a whole).
- 4.2.2. Assessment for each specific period (a semester, an academic year) is indicated in the study plan.
- 4.2.3. The type of assessment is determined in the extended programme of a study course.
- 4.2.4. If a study course is taught by several members of the academic staff, grades are recorded by the leading member of the academic staff.
- 4.2.5. If a study course consists of several independent parts and it lasts for several semesters, one study course can contain several assessments.
- 4.2.6. Examinations and tests are held at the presence of a member of the academic staff or an authorized person. The study courses implemented in the LLU e-learning platform contains online tests.
